1. Introduction

1.1. Governance

By virtue of its integrated regulatory and professional roles, the Pharmaceutical Society NI performs functions of a public nature and is, therefore, accountable directly to the public for regulation and to its membership via a Pharmacy Forum for delivery of Professional Leadership.

Functions are derived from the Pharmacy (Northern Ireland) Order 1976 and the Pharmacy Amendment NI Order 2012 which states:

“The Objectives of the Society shall be:

- (a) to advance chemistry and pharmacy;
- (b) to promote pharmaceutical education and the application of pharmaceutical knowledge;
- (c) to maintain the honour and safeguard and promote the interest of the members of the Society and in their exercise of the profession of pharmacy;
- (d) to execute all such functions as may be entrusted to the Society under any enactment;
- (e) to provide relief for distressed persons, being:
 - (i) members of the Society;
 - (ii) persons who at any time have been members of the Society or have been registered as either pharmaceutical chemists, or chemists and druggists, or druggists or apprentices or pharmaceutical chemists, or as students of the Society; or
 - (iii) widows, orphans or dependants of deceased persons who were at any time members of the Society or registered as aforesaid.”

The UK Government has established an advisory body in the form of the Council for Healthcare Regulatory Excellence (CHRE). The Bill establishing the CHRE also makes this organisation accountable via CHRE to the Westminster Parliament for the exercise of its regulatory functions as well as retaining primary accountability to the local Assembly. CHRE changed its name in 2013 to the Professional Standards Authority (PSA).

In addition to the principles espoused by the various reports on corporate governance, one of the key recommendations of the Nolan Committee on Standards in Public Life (“Nolan Principles”) was the need for organisations to focus on achieving good governance in order to be effective in the future. This organisation has recognised the need to monitor developments in corporate governance and standards in public life to ensure that Council keeps abreast of current good practice and can revise its procedures to take account of developments.

2. Roles and Accountabilities

2.1. The Role of Council

A clear distinction has been drawn between the roles of Council, its committees and staff. Council focuses on strategic development and major policy issues (i.e. decisions on major new actions to achieve strategic objectives), while Council Committees concentrate on oversight, audit, provision of support and advice to the Senior Management Team and on exercising delegated authority for some statutory and regulatory roles.

In keeping with the requirement in Trust Assurance and Safety that the functions of leadership and regulation are separate, there is one Council Committee that is governed by a Scheme of Delegation - the Pharmacy Forum Management Board ("PFMB"). Any reference to Council Committees within the Scheme of Delegation excludes the PFMB unless it is specifically named. The PFMB has its own governance arrangements, the minimum requirements for which are set out in the Scheme of Delegation.

The Chief Executive is accountable to Council for ensuring policy implementation by staff through a Scheme of Delegation. Members of staff will be given delegated authority to implement policies on the understanding that proposed actions need only be referred back if the staff member has doubt about their implementation or if they fall outside agreed policy.

The Pharmacy (Northern Ireland) Order 1976 states that: "The Council may on behalf and for the benefit of the Society -

- (a) direct and manage the business and affairs of the Society, and exercise all such powers of the Society as are not by this Order required to be exercised by the Society in general meeting, in accordance with and subject to approved byelaws made by the Council;
- (b) control and manage the property and funds of the Society and invest and apply the same in such manner as the Council may determine, subject to such general or special directions (if any) as may be contained in approved byelaws made by the Council with respect to the control and management of such property and funds;
- (c) regulate the functions of the secretary, treasurer, clerks and other subordinate officers and their terms and conditions of service;
- (d) employ and pay such auditors, accountants and other advisers as the Council may think fit."

Thereby, Council is responsible for the following functions and all individual Council members share collective responsibility for discharging these functions:

- i) lead strategic development and policy, both new initiatives and reaction to external developments, informed by the views of the public, the registrants and other stakeholders;
- ii) ensure the proper exercise of regulatory and law enforcement duties;
- iii) set priorities for workload, expenditure and income generation;
- iv) monitor the implementation of policies, activities of committees, efficiency and effectiveness of the organisation and policy evaluation;
- v) appoint Trustees for the Society's trusts/funds, where appropriate;
- vi) maintain good relations with the public, registrants and other professions;
- vii) represent the profession's policies and views to government departments and decision-makers (covered by the Scheme of Delegation to PFMB);
- viii) decide upon the supporting structures that are required for Council and the extent to which responsibility should be delegated to them;
- ix) ensure adequate systems of appointment, appraisal, remuneration and discipline of staff; and
- x) ensure high standards of corporate governance including financial performance and personal behaviour.

2.1.1. Responsibilities of Individual Council Members

The powers and responsibilities of Council are exercised jointly by its members, each of whom has statutory and fiduciary duties in discharging the responsibilities listed above and each of whom is required to pursue the best interests of the organisation. Council members are jointly responsible for a decision even if they have voted against it, abstained from voting or were absent when voting occurred. It follows that all Council members are bound by a decision of Council made in good faith (whether a unanimous or majority decision) and may not obstruct the execution of that decision.

Council members are asked to represent the organisation on working parties and in ad hoc meetings with government departments, stakeholders and other regulatory bodies.

The normal commitment of Council members will be in the region of an average of 12 – 16 meetings annually, equivalent to approximately 6-8 full working days but this can increase if they become involved in more meetings additional to the Council and Committee meetings. There is no obligation on the organisation to offer a minimum level of activity. Time must also be spent in studying the background papers for meetings.

Council members undertake to adhere to published standards of behaviour and to make regular attendances at meetings of Council and its Committees. Provision for the appointment, suspension and removal of Council members is contained in the Pharmacy (1976 Order) (Amendment) Order (Northern Ireland) 2012 and associated Regulations.

2.1.2. Constitution of Council

Council is constituted of 7 registrant and 7 lay members including a President and Vice-President appointed by the Department of Health.

2.1.3. Tenure of office

Terms of Office are provided for in the Pharmacy (1976 Order) (Amendment) Order (Northern Ireland) 2012 and associated Regulations.

2.1.4. Constitution of Council and Election of Officers

2.2. The role of Council committees

2.2.1. Standing Committees of Council

The standing committees of Council are:

- Audit & Risk Committee – see Terms of Reference at Appendix H
- Finance & Performance Committee – see Terms of Reference at Appendix I
- Remuneration Committee – see Terms of Reference at Appendix J

2.2.2. Other Committees that support or carry out the functions of Council at arm's length

The Pharmacy Forum Management Board – recognising the requirements of “Trust Assurance and Safety”, Council has established the Pharmacy Forum Management Board to whom professional leadership activity is delegated through a Scheme of Delegation – See Appendix S.

The Statutory Committee and Scrutiny Committee – See the Statutory and Scrutiny Committees Regulation 2012 at Appendix Y.

2.3. The Role of the Officers

The Officers are the President and Vice President. The collective duties of the Officers are:

- (a) to provide leadership to Council;
- (b) to provide high level oversight to the work of the Senior Management Team;
- (c) to meet prior to each Council Meeting with the Chief Executive, if required;
- (d) to support the activities of the Chief Executive; and
- (e) to appoint the members of Council committees and sub-committees.

2.3.1. The Role of President

The President provides effective leadership of Council and promotes Council's agreed strategy and policies for the regulator in the public arena and provides line management to the Chief Executive on behalf of Council.

2.3.2. The Role of Vice President

The Vice President deputises for the President in his/her absence. In addition, s/he should support the President in all his/her functions with continuing emphasis on monitoring the overall effectiveness of the organisation and, in particular, Council committees.

2.4. The Role of Committee Chairs

Together with the secretary to the Committee or lead member of staff, the Chair is responsible for the preparation for meetings and for monitoring the implementation of decisions. However, the conduct of the meeting itself should be the sole responsibility of the Chair (see Section 5.9 on Conduct of Committee Meetings). Appendix F sets out the specific duties of the Chair.

Generic Role Profiles

Generic role profiles for Council members, Council members as Committee Chairs, Council members as Committee members and Council members as Officers are attached at Appendix F. Section 3 of info pack – generic role profiles – ensure they are the same

3. Induction and Development

An induction programme for new Council members is held as soon as possible after appointment. The programme gives new members the opportunity to find out more about the organisation and their role within it and to meet with Council members and senior staff. It is a requirement that new Council members attend the session. New Council members are given copies of:

- (a) Council byelaws;
- (b) The 1976 Pharmacy Northern Ireland Order, associated Regulations and amendments; and
- (c) The Corporate Governance Handbook.

Committee Chairs should brief new members on their committee's work of the previous year.

It is advised that Committee Chairs formally meet annually with their members to discuss the performance of the committee. This should be documented and a record held centrally.

Within the constraints of their workload, members of staff will be happy to meet with individual members of Council informally to discuss aspects of the organisation's work.

4. Council meetings

4.1. Programme

Council normally meets every six to eight weeks on a Tuesday. Council meetings commence at 09:30 and normally last for a period of approximately four hours.

It may also be necessary to hold additional special meetings when a topic of importance develops that cannot be fitted into the Council Agenda.

At a meeting of Council, the President or, in his/her absence, the Vice-President shall act as Chair and, if both the President and Vice-President are absent, one of the members of Council present shall be elected Chair by the majority present as set out in the Regulations.

At all meetings of Council, the motions considered shall be decided by a majority and the Chair shall, in the event of a split decision, have a casting vote.

The quorum for a meeting of the Council shall be eight or be in accordance with any legislative provision.

4.2. Remote Attendance at Meetings

Members may attend meetings in person, via conference call or by other remote means. Members so attending shall be deemed to be present at the meeting and shall count towards quorum and, where required, shall be entitled to vote on any motion.

4.3. Council E-Papers

Council, at its meeting on 10 March 2020, agreed that matters of urgency could be addressed by electronic means during the declared COVID-19 pandemic. The procedures employed for remote transactions of business that need to be addressed are set out below.

Urgent Decisions of Council (required in less than 2 days)

In circumstances where the PSNI Executive Team requires urgent decisions of Council, the President and Vice-President may, with Council approval having been given, and in compliance with current governance arrangements, make decisions. In such a case the details of the decision made on Council's behalf will be shared with all Council members by email as quickly as possible. If a longer timeframe for a decision is possible, then all Council members will be canvassed for their approval.

Non-urgent but Time-critical Decisions of Council (required in less than 1 working week)

Where decisions of Council are Non-urgent but are needed within a period of less than 1 working week, a Council E-paper will be issued to all members by email setting out the issue to be considered and proposals requiring approval. Members will be invited to consider the information provided and send any comments or questions they may have within 24 hours to the President, Vice-President, CEO and Executive Assistant. Responses to any questions raised by Members will, where possible in the constrained timeframe, be made (copied to all members) within the following 24 hours. This process provides relevant information to Council, responses to questions and comments as far as is possible in the circumstances, and a formal decision by Council within a 3-day timeframe. In all cases, for a proposal to be approved, a minimum of 8 votes in favour (including Nil responses) will be required for approval.

Non-urgent Decisions of Council (required in more than 3 working days)

Where Decisions of Council are needed, and a timeframe of more than 3 working days, a Council E-paper will be issued to all members by email setting out the issue(s) to be considered and proposals requiring approval. Members will be invited to consider the information provided and send any comments or questions they may have within 72 hours to the President, Vice-President, CEO and Executive Assistant. Responses to questions will be made (copied to all members) within the following 48 hours. This process provides relevant information to Council, responses to questions, amendments arising from comments, and a formal decision by Council within a one-week timeframe. Where timescales can be lengthened in these cases, this will be highlighted in the first email. In all cases, for a proposal to be approved, a minimum of 8 votes in favour (including NIL responses counting as consent) will be required.

5. Conduct of Council and Committee meetings

See also Appendix A - Standing Orders of the Council of the Pharmaceutical Society NI.

5.1. Operational Objectives and Processes

In conducting its business, Council should take cognisance of the organisation's operational objectives and processes which are as follows:

To regulate the practice of pharmacy in the public interest, by:

- a) ensuring compliance with all legislative requirements;
- b) meeting the standards set down by the Professional Standards Authority around Registration, Education, Fitness to Practise and Standards:
 - (i) ensuring the development and publication of appropriate Standards;
 - (ii) ensuring adequate measures are in place to deliver Fitness to Practise procedures;
 - (iii) overseeing the assurance of the quality of pharmacy education and training;
 - (iv) overseeing the maintenance of a publicly accessible Register which permits only those qualified to enter and access Fitness to Practise history;
 - (v) ensuring the publication of information on performance in the areas above, thereby instilling public confidence in the profession of pharmacy;
 - (vi) overseeing the management of resources to deliver the above; and
 - (vii) through a Scheme of Delegation, ensuring that professional leadership is delivered in the public interest.

5.2. Strategic Planning

A strategic plan is produced and maintained by Council and supporting annual financial and activity plans are produced by staff, considered and, when approved by the Finance & Performance Committee, recommended to Council for approval. The financial plans must be approved each year in time to allow a fees consultation whether or not the plans recommend a change in fees. Normally, approval for the plan relating to the business year of 01 June to 31 May of the following year should be obtained by November each year.

Plans for the overall work of the organisation, and for each Council committee, should be clearly linked to Council's strategic objectives and financial resources should be apportioned to meet these identified objectives.

5.3. Preparation of policy papers

An impetus for policy development may arise from a range of sources within and beyond the organisation. The Chief Executive acts as a focal point within the organisation to oversee the development of information relevant to policy and to ensure proposals for policy work are put to Council via a committee, where relevant. Information relevant to policy development identified by committees or groups will be absorbed into ongoing work, where appropriate, or be considered when new policy work can be taken on.

5.4. Arrangements for agendas, papers & minutes

The Agenda and Minutes of Council and Council committees will be sent to members approximately 7 days prior to meetings to allow their proper consideration. With regard to committee meetings, supporting papers will be made available on request to members of Council not on the committee.

Council members may raise issues arising from Committee Minutes with the Committee Chair prior to Council meeting.

5.5. Preparation for Committee Meetings

Most of the work associated with collating items that might be included on agenda and preparing background documentation is the responsibility of the Committee Chair, supported by the administration team and lead member of staff (the Chief Executive/executive assistant in the case of Council).

The Chair, and any Committee members who wish to do so, should submit items to the relevant administrator no later than 10 days prior to the date of the Committee meeting concerned.

Unless it is not feasible on a particular occasion, the draft agenda will then be sent to the Chair (by email) for his/her comments by return. If time permits, the Chair should also be given the opportunity to comment on any background documents while they are still in draft form.

The Chair and executive assistant or lead member of staff should make time before each Committee meeting to discuss the agenda, ensuring the necessary information is available for the business of the meeting. This meeting/conversation should also be used to identify the specific decisions which should be given priority and which should not be deferred until a subsequent meeting.

5.6. Confidentiality of papers and discussions

5.6.1. Designation of items as Confidential

Committee staff, in consultation with the Chair, where necessary, will mark agenda and move confidential items and supporting papers to the In Committee session of the Council or Committee meeting when:

- a) they are “position papers” to be used in negotiations or in making submissions to outside bodies;
- b) they are part of a continuing discussion and the outcome could be jeopardised by disclosure;
- c) they are reports of activities upon which decisions will be made and all or part of the report content will not be released or published;
- d) they contain information that has been sent in confidence;
- e) they refer to individuals or organisations who could be prejudiced by disclosure;
- f) their disclosure could be prejudicial to the financial interest of this or another organisation or an individual;
- g) the fact that a specific topic is under consideration is, of itself, confidential;
- h) the matter is confidential for some other identifiable reason; and
- i) the matter relates to the outcome of an internal audit.

Council will hold meetings designated as “In-Committee” to deal with items considered confidential or sensitive.

Any paper within the In-Committee Council agenda should be treated as such and should not be discussed with anyone other than Council members, relevant members of staff and members of the committee which has the paper for consideration.

Members should also exercise discretion over items and papers which are not within the In-Committee agenda as items may be inappropriate for discussion beyond the circulation list.

Some papers containing highly sensitive information, either commercially or for some other reason, will be marked "Restricted", may be numbered and will normally be circulated only to Council members and other individual members of staff directly involved. Obviously, such papers must be treated as confidential and recipients will normally be required to return all "Restricted" papers after the relevant decisions have been taken.

5.6.2. Discussions at meetings

Verbatim reports of discussions at meetings of Council, committees and sub-committees will not ordinarily be recorded. Individual contributions should always be regarded as confidential. The general thrust of a discussion can, however, be recounted if the item is not within the Confidential session of Committee meetings or the In-Committee agenda.

5.7. Declaration of interests at meetings

Council considers that it should be aware of any interest, pecuniary or otherwise, that one of its members might have in any subject which is under discussion by Council, or by a Council Committee on which that member serves, if the member concerned intends to take part in the discussion or the vote. In such circumstances, a Council member will be expected to declare that interest at the commencement of the discussion. Having done so, the Council member concerned would then normally be free to take part in the discussion and, if there is one, in the vote where it is agreed that this is appropriate. In exceptional circumstances, the member concerned may be asked by the President or the Chair of the relevant committee to leave the meeting for all or part of the discussion and the vote.

As an alternative to declaring an interest at the Council or Committee meeting, the member concerned may inform the President or the Chair of the committee, as the case may be, in advance of their intention not to attend the meeting or to attend but take no part in the discussion or, if there is one, the vote. Again, in exceptional circumstances, the President or Chair may request that the member leaves the meeting for the item concerned.

A Council or Committee member, who is generally known to hold a senior post in a major company or other enterprise or to hold office in another pharmaceutical or otherwise relevant organisation previously declared on their interests form, will not be expected to declare that interest at each Council or Committee meeting but will be expected to refrain from discussions or voting, if appropriate.

5.8. Conduct of the meeting

The conduct of the meeting is the sole responsibility of the Chair. It is recognised that many will have had previous experience of Chairing meetings and that techniques may vary depending upon the personality of a particular individual. However, the following guidelines are recommended to all who occupy this office:

- a) It is the role of the Chair to ensure that the Committee deals expeditiously with the items on the agenda. The target should be to complete the agenda within the allotted timeframe of the meeting but this should not be done by curtailing discussion on important matters merely to ensure completion of the agenda items.

The expected time for a particular item will have been discussed with the lead member of staff prior to the meeting but the Chair must be prepared to make a judgement based on the way that a particular debate is proceeding and, if the circumstances so require, must decide whether to defer completion of the debate until a future meeting or complete the debate at the expense of some other items on the agenda. Such a decision will be based on the importance of the topic and on whether an immediate decision is essential.

- b) Although there is no formal requirement within committee business that members should only speak once on a particular subject, it is a good principle to adopt as a rule. The Chair should make every effort to ensure that all committee members who wish to speak are given an opportunity to do so at least once. Depending upon the subject and the expertise of the contributor, it may be sensible to allow one or more committee members to speak more frequently in a particular debate. However, the Chair should insist that this should only be on aspects of the topic which have not been covered in previous contributions. The overall aim is to prevent duplication of debating points particularly by the same committee member.
- c) As a general rule, the Chair should act as co-ordinator of the debate and, based on the discussion, should direct the committee towards the decisions that are required. The Chair should not normally participate in the debate itself unless he or she has expertise related to the topic in question and views relevant to the discussion based on that expertise have not been offered by other members of the committee.

The prime objective of the Chair is to ensure that the committee is provided with all relevant information on the different aspects of a subject and then to obtain a consensus or majority view in relation to the decisions that need to be made. This responsibility should take precedence over any inclination of the Chair to become an active participant in favour of one side of the debate. A good Chair can function efficiently without any expert knowledge of the topic in hand. Additionally, a good Chair should not use their position to promote his or her own views unduly.

- d) The Chair should conduct the meeting with firmness and good humour. Committee members will respond well to this approach. They are likely to become frustrated if the Chair is not firm or is over-officious. Without firmness, a meeting can deteriorate into a series of prolonged and unnecessary discussions or even into a series of separate informal meetings. A degree of formality is essential and the Chair should insist that all comments be made through the Chair. On the other hand, the active co-operation of committee members is essential for the good conduct of a meeting and this can be achieved when the Chair exercises an element of good humour within a firm approach to the conduct of business.
- e) The relationship between the Chair and lead member of staff during the meeting is another important factor. The Chair should look to the lead member of staff when necessary for advice on procedure and, where appropriate, on past policy. This can be given quietly to the Chair or can be explained to the meeting.

5.9. Non-members of committees

Council members do not normally attend meetings of committees of which they are not members but they may attend at the invitation of or with the permission of the relevant Chair.

5.10. Attendance at Council meetings

“Public”, In-Committee” and “Private” Business

The parts of the Council meeting taken in “open” business are open to any registrant or to the public, designated as Public Meetings. Wherever possible, Council business should be conducted in this mode.

“Confidential” business will normally exclude all but Council members and when required the Chief Executive or selected individuals. Such meetings are designated as “In-Committee”

“Private” business will normally be discussed only in the presence of Council members.

5.11. The reporting of Council proceedings

The current convention is that discretion is given to the Chief Executive to decide which parts of the Council meeting should be reported. This applies to all the proceedings.

Thus, any Council member who contributes to a debate at any part of the Council meeting, under the present arrangements, should assume that he may not be reported unless that Council member indicates that his or her remarks, either in total or in part, should be reported.

Registrants and the public should be as fully informed as possible about key decisions taken at Public Council meetings to facilitate transparency. This policy is recognised by Council as being in the best interests of the organisation and thus as much information as practicable will be made available through the website and other media when reporting on the outcomes of Council meetings.

In keeping with best practice identified by PSA, notes of Council and committee meetings will be published on the website and attendance by registrants or the public at Council meetings is permitted, subject to conditions published on the website.

5.12. Composition of, and quorum for, Council committees

Composition

Membership of the Audit & Risk and the Finance & Performance Committees will consist of 4-6 Council Members including the Chair who will chair the Committee meetings and be responsible for the conduct of the meeting.

Membership of the Remuneration Committee will consist of 4 Council Members including the President and Vice-President. The President will chair the Remuneration Committee meetings.

Quorum

A quorum of 50% is necessary for the transaction of business. Members' attendance via telephone or video-link is permissible for the purposes of determining quorum.

5.13. Attendance at committee/group meetings

Where a Council member has been appointed to a committee or membership group and without reasonable cause, fails to attend meetings, the Committee Chair may request a review of their appointment by the President.

6. Monitoring by Council

Council, in accepting ultimate responsibility for oversight of the organisation, requires a structure for the systematic monitoring of the organisation to ensure its policy directions are being met. Council and its committees may approve programmes of action, prioritise, set deadlines, review priorities in the light of further demands and are informed regularly of progress. The following are ways in which Council monitors progress.

6.1. Policy implementation - Monitoring of agreed actions

Policy implementation is monitored by Council through the receipt of the minutes of its standing committees and by audit.

6.2. Monitoring role of the Vice President

The Vice President has the role of monitoring the activities of the main committees and the overall effectiveness of the organisation. However, a report to Council is only made by exception when it is considered that changes may be necessary to a committee structure or processes. Where a report is made, it should be towards the end of the Council year.

6.3. Audit

The internal audit, annual external audit exercise and the Audit and Risk Committee assure Council that the Society has adequate control systems in place including management of risk. The Chief Executive is accountable for ensuring that adequate financial and non-financial control systems are in place.

7. Relationships with staff

Every opportunity is taken to facilitate communication between Council members and staff to engender a shared ownership and understanding of the organisation's objectives and priorities. Good relationships between Council members and staff are essential and should be fostered.

In the course of their working relationships with members of staff, Council members may encounter issues that should be dealt with through line management. In these cases, Council members are advised to listen to what staff have to say and to encourage them to raise the matters with their respective managers in the usual way. If, exceptionally, this does not appear to be appropriate, the Council member may wish to discuss the matter with the Head of Business Operations or Chief Executive. Council members are strongly advised not to take initiatives that are likely to encourage staff to raise matters with them that should normally be dealt with through management channels including, where necessary, the grievance procedure.

7.1. Access to information by Council members

In overseeing the work of the organisation, Council requires relevant information. However, Council members should only have information which they require to undertake their duties as a Council member. It is for management to implement policy under the guidance, where relevant, of the appropriate Council committee and to oversee individual staff performance. In order to carry out their functions, some committees may need access to information on individual staff members but Council members acting on their own should not have access to such information. Where Council members require additional information, requests should be directed to the Chief Executive.

8. Concerns about probity

Council has agreed that the Audit & Risk Committee is responsible for dealing with probity issues and the following principles/procedures have been adopted:

Defining 'probity' – There should be an absolute standard of honesty in dealing with the assets of the Pharmaceutical Society of Northern Ireland. Integrity should be the hallmark of all personal conduct in decisions affecting members, staff and outside agencies/departments and in the use of information acquired in the course of any Council business.

In the context of Council, probity is any situation where an individual has the opportunity for personal gain either for themselves, their business, family, colleagues or associates. Personal gain is wider than simple financial benefit and would include opportunities for increased status, recognition or influence.

Council members who have concerns about probity should provide a note of these concerns, with their evidence, to the Chair of the Audit & Risk Committee on a confidential basis. The Audit & Risk Committee Chair will then discuss with and seek the agreement of the Audit & Risk Committee in relation to any action to be recommended to the President or Vice-President. In certain circumstances, this discussion could be limited only to members of the Audit & Risk Committee excluding non-members who normally attend.

- a) Staff who have concerns about probity should confidentially provide a note of these concerns with their evidence to their line manager or, if the circumstances require, to someone more senior, including, where appropriate, the Chief Executive or, by exception, the President. Management should then decide whether to refer the matter to the Chair of the Audit & Risk Committee for action as at (i) above. If this procedure has been followed without meeting the staff member's concerns, management may approach the Chair of the Audit & Risk Committee direct. Staff should not approach other Council members on issues of probity. If they do so, the Council member should advise them to follow the proper procedure.

- b) The Council or staff member raising concerns and all those involved in subsequent action e.g. senior managers, the Audit & Risk Committee and any other agency, should observe confidentiality until the investigation is complete to prevent any perception of defamation should the concerns prove unfounded.
- c) If the concern is proven to be unfounded, no allegation should be made publicly on this matter, either specifically or in general terms. If the concern is proved to be correct, remedial action will be taken and both the concerns and action taken will be reported to Council. Council members should not expect to have personal access to the organisation's files to investigate probity issues. Access to information must always be given to enable Council members to discharge their accountability. In the context of probity, this requires them, acting corporately, to ensure that systems are in place to resolve matters if things go wrong and to activate those systems when necessary, in accordance with Item 7 of the Code of Conduct. Council members do not have managerial responsibility for actual investigations.

9. Conduct of members of Council

For the organisation to command the confidence of the public and the profession, it is necessary that Council, as its governing body, should adopt and comply with appropriate standards of conduct.

9.1. Code of conduct

9.1.1. Preface

Council powers are set out in the Pharmacy (Northern Ireland) Order 1976. In particular, Part II Article 4 (3) provides that:

'the Council may on behalf, and for the benefit of the Society -

- a) direct and manage the business and affairs of the Society and exercise all such powers of the Society as are not by this Order required to be exercised by the Society in general meeting, in accordance with and subject to approved bye-laws made by Council'.

In the exercise of these powers, in discussions at meetings of the Council and its committees, in decision-making and in communications, Council members are expected to observe the highest standards of impartiality, integrity and objectivity. Council members should faithfully report Council policy.

The powers and responsibilities of Council are exercised jointly by its members, each of whom has statutory and fiduciary duties and is required to pursue the best interests of the organisation. Council members are jointly responsible for a decision even if they have voted against it, abstained from voting or were absent. It follows that all members are bound by a decision of Council made in good faith (whether a unanimous or majority decision) and may not obstruct the execution of that decision. Council operates within the context of the seven Nolan Principles of public life which are attached at Appendix 1 and each Council member is required to subscribe to these principles. The Code of Conduct sets out in general terms the duties of each member of Council but Council expects its members to adopt high standards of conduct in all aspects of their activities as members of Council. So long as they continue to serve on Council, Council members cannot, by their actions or behaviour, divest themselves of their role in such capacity in matters concerning the profession.

Council members take office as and from the date of appointment and are bound by corporate responsibility from that date.

Every Council member is bound by the Code of Conduct and will be asked each year to sign a statement that they have received and read the Code of Conduct. (copy of declaration attached at Appendix K).

9.1.2. The Code (Council adopted this Code of Conduct)

1. Members of Council must at all times while acting in that capacity ensure that their activities are directed toward the fulfilment of the objectives and responsibilities specified in legislation, and the interests of the public, including any specific requirements set out in current or future legislation.
2. Members of Council must respect the confidentiality of information identified as confidential, acquired by them solely by virtue of their position as such.
3. Members of Council must not make use of information acquired solely by virtue of their position as such for personal gain, whether financial or non-financial.

4. Members of Council must not use their position as such to seek to influence the conduct of any aspect of the Council's business for the benefit of any individual, body corporate or other association rather than for the benefit of the profession as a whole.
5. Members of Council must not use their position as such to promote their personal, professional or business interests and must on appointment and annually thereafter declare formally any interests they have on the form supplied for that purpose
6. Members of Council must ensure, when speaking in their capacity as such at any meetings of the Council, its committees or outside, that they declare any personal or business interests relevant to the matter in hand.
7. Members of Council must avoid any conduct that impairs the ability of the Council to perform its functions or to enjoy the confidence of the public, the profession or government.
8. Members of Council must ensure that the funds are properly applied to the furtherance of the Objectives of the organisation.
9. Members of Council must ensure that entries relating to them in the Registers of Interests and of Gifts and Hospitality are accurate, complete and up to date.
10. Members of Council must ensure that prompt and effective action is taken through appropriate channels to investigate any allegation of maladministration within the organisation reported to them
11. Any member of Council who wishes to engage in litigation against the organisation, the Council or any member thereof, or any officer or employee of the organisation in their capacity as such, must resign from the Council before taking such action.
12. Members of Council must comply with the Equal Opportunities Policy, Equality and Diversity Policy and Statement on Harassment and Bullying.

10. Relationships with commercial organisations

Members of Council may have contact with representatives of commercial organisations in the course of their duties. This can give rise to misunderstandings and misrepresentations of the relationship between the parties. This note aims to set a general framework for these contacts.

Contacts with commercial organisations relating to regulatory matters: Care must be taken to ensure that attendance at meetings, correspondence or informal discussions are not represented as involvement or endorsement by the Pharmaceutical Society NI of any of the commercial activities of an organisation. Partnership with any commercial organisation, as distinct from collaboration with professional, educational or public bodies, can only be entered into with Council approval. Advice should always be sought from the Chief Executive before any discussions are progressed any commercial organisation.

Members are reminded to declare any and all conflicts of interest.

10.1. Sponsorship of meetings, publications or prizes

Sponsorship and fundraising should adhere to the following principles:

All sponsorship:

- a) the sponsoring body does not have control of the content of the event;
- b) there is no product endorsement requirement as part of the sponsorship arrangements; and
- c) the sponsoring body is not engaged in activity which is inconsistent with the objectives and context of the Pharmaceutical Society NI - e.g. a cigarette manufacturer.

10.2. Gifts and Hospitality

Hospitality provided by a commercial organisation may be, or may be construed to be, an attempt by the organisation to gain influence or favours and all Council members should avoid any conduct which could give rise to suspicions of this kind. Council members are advised to seek guidance on offers of hospitality other than a normal business lunch or evening reception to which representatives of bodies similar to or linked with the organisation's activities are invited. Any such gifts should be recorded in the Register of Interests, Gifts and Hospitality.

10.3. Register of Interests, Gifts and Hospitality

A copy of the form all Council members are required to complete is circulated as Appendix F. The form is circulated to Council members periodically and the onus is on each individual Council member to ensure that their entries are updated.

The Register is available for Council members to view at any time and can be inspected by other members of the profession on written request.

11. Council member expenses

Council members are entitled to reimbursement for travel expenses, expenses incurred on legitimate Council business and for costs of accommodation and subsistence.

However, with the approval of the Chief Executive, another identified individual may be authorised to write or otherwise communicate with an external organisation.

13.2. Consultation documents

There is a central system for dealing with external consultation documents. Responses within policy will normally be signed off by the Officers or the Chief Executive.

Non-confidential responses (occasionally, the consultation document originator may ask for the document and the organisation's response to be kept confidential) are also made available on the website.

13.3. Media Training

A number of Council members and staff members will receive media training. The organisation will maintain a list of those trained who may be called upon if required. If the number of trained members falls below 3, a new training course will be set up with as many of Council and appropriate staff members who need to attend.

14. Members' meetings

The Byelaws make provision for the holding of annual and special general meetings.

The relevant sections of the Byelaws of 09 November 2011 are as follows:

- 2) A member may, at the Annual Meeting, raise any matter or move any motion, subject to the restriction hereinafter referred to, of which he has given the Chief Executive notice in writing not later than twenty-eight clear days before the said meeting is to be held. Any purpose specified in the requisition raised pursuant to this byelaw shall not be considered at the special general meeting and shall be rejected at the sole discretion of the Council, if it would or could impede, or impact upon, the regulatory function of Council.

Although Council members are not obliged to attend these meetings (except for the Officers), they are encouraged to do so where possible.

Appendix L

Register of Interests, Gifts & Hospitality

The purpose of this Register is to enable members of Council to make a clear declaration of any interests, gifts or hospitality that could, or could be thought to, affect their performance of their Council duties. Declaration of an interest does not necessarily prevent a member of Council from speaking on a subject related to that interest but it ensures that there can be no perception that the member of Council may be seeking improperly to influence Council decisions for personal benefit. Each member of Council is responsible for ensuring that any amendment to the Register is made.

The Register is available for inspection by members of Council at any time. In December 2003, Council agreed the publication scheme for the Society as required by the Freedom of Information Act 2000. The scheme indicates what information will be made available to the public. Accordingly, members of the public will be able to request to see the Register of Interests, Gifts and Hospitality for Council members from 1 January 2005.

For clarity, if you have nothing to register for any section, it is necessary to make a nil declaration by writing "Nothing to declare" or "None" under each relevant heading.

The Nolan Committee Principles of Public Life

1. Selflessness

Holders of public office should take decisions solely in terms of the public interest. They should not do so in order to gain financial or other material benefits for themselves, their family, or their friends.

2. Integrity

Holders of public office should not place themselves under any financial or other obligation to outside individuals or organisations that might influence them in the performance of their official duties.

3. Objectivity

In carrying out public business, including making public appointments, awarding contracts, or recommending individuals for rewards and benefits, holders of public office should make choices on merit.

4. Accountability

Holders of public office are accountable for their decisions and actions to the public and must submit themselves to whatever scrutiny is appropriate to their office.

5. Openness

Holders of public office should be as open as possible about all the decisions and actions that they take. They should give reasons for their decisions and restrict information only when the wider public interest clearly demands.

6. Honesty

Holders of public office have a duty to declare any private interests relating to their public duties and to take steps to resolve any conflicts arising in a way that protects the public interest.

7. Leadership

Holders of public office should promote and support these principles by leadership and example.

These principles apply to all aspects of public life. The Committee has set them out here for the benefit of all who serve the public in any way. [Excerpt from the Nolan Committee's First Report on Standards in Public Life, 1995]

Appendix O

Equal Opportunities Policy

1. Policy Statement

The Society believes that all decisions about people at work should be based on the individual's abilities, skills, performance and behaviour, and the Society's business requirements. Questions of an individual's race*, ethnic origin, colour, gender, marital status, age, religion, membership or non-membership of a trade union or sexual orientation are never relevant to its business. Issues of disability should only be considered against the particular requirements of the job.

The Society's equal opportunities policy applies to decisions about recruitment, selection, promotion, training and development, pay, employment benefits, discretionary or otherwise, conditions of employment and the allocation of work to employees in all parts of the Society and at all levels.

The Society's equal opportunities practices and policies must be strictly adhered to by all employees. Discrimination, abuse, or failure to observe Society policy and practice may result in disciplinary action being taken, including summary dismissal in serious cases.

2. Harassment

The Society wants to provide an environment which respects the dignity of individuals at work. Harassment, victimisation or bullying of individuals based on any of the issues listed in the Equal Opportunities Policy statement above is neither permitted nor condoned by the Society.

Harassment may involve unwanted/unnecessary physical contact, words, writing or pictures; or isolation or non-co-operation, coercion or intrusion by pestering or spying. Any of these behaviours will always be viewed extremely seriously, and a single serious incident can result in summary dismissal for gross misconduct.

3. Responsibility for the Equal Opportunities Policy

All employees are expected to act in accordance with this policy. They must be aware of the implications of equal opportunities legislation when carrying out their duties. Employees contravening this policy may face disciplinary action and may also find themselves required to pay compensation as a result of legal action taken against them by aggrieved individuals.

4. Complaints of discrimination

If employees believe that the Equal Opportunities Policy is not being followed and informal attempts to resolve the issue have failed or are inappropriate in the circumstances, the matter should be raised through the Grievance Procedure. (see Staff Handbook Section?).

Employees may always contact their manager or, formally or informally, and in confidence if they wish, to discuss their situation. It is helpful to raise these problems at an early stage.

These internal procedures do not replace or detract from the right of the employees to pursue complaints under the Sex Discrimination (Northern Ireland) Order 1976, the Disability Discrimination Act 1995, the Race Relations (Northern Ireland) Order 1997 and the Employment Equality (Sexual Orientation) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 2003 to an industrial tribunal or, under the Fair Employment and Treatment (Northern Ireland) Order 1998, to a Fair Employment Tribunal

5. People with Disabilities

The criteria, which the Society applies to prospective employees who are disabled, are that they should be capable of filling the post to a satisfactory standard and without endangering themselves or other people. The Society will attempt to make reasonable adjustments to promote job opportunities and remove barriers for people with disabilities or for employees who become disabled.

6. Equal opportunities monitoring

In order to measure the success of the policy, equality monitoring is undertaken for all Society employees and prospective employees. The statistics produced are published annually.

7. Equal Opportunities Training

All employees should gain an understanding of the Society's Equal Opportunities Policy and the Society will endeavour to cover this area as part of each new employee's induction programme.

* Irish Travellers are recognised by the Race Relations (Northern Ireland) Order 1997 as being members of a racial group.

Equality & Diversity Policy

Equality and Diversity Policy

The Pharmaceutical Society of Northern Ireland is firmly committed to eliminating discrimination and promoting diversity in all areas of our work. We believe that we have much to learn and profit from diverse cultures, experiences and perspectives, and that diversity will make our organisation more effective in meeting the needs of all our stakeholders.

The Equality and Diversity Policy underpins all our other policies and procedures. All organisation policies, remuneration opportunities, hours of work, performance review schemes, disciplinary or other procedures, and benefits are designed to promote equal opportunity and protection for all staff, contractors and volunteers.

We believe that diversity is a means to achieve our ambitions. Diversity is about outreach, inclusion and service delivery as well as the people we employ and involve in our work.

Whilst the Pharmaceutical Society of Northern Ireland is not a public authority, and therefore not subject to Section 75 of the Northern Ireland Act 1998, the organisation seeks to maintain high standards in the application of equality and diversity to all its functions.

Principles of the Equality and Diversity Policy

The Equality and Diversity Policy is based on the following fundamental principles:

The overall aim of the Society's Equality and Diversity policy is to:

- Ensure that we treat all individuals fairly, with dignity and respect
- Promote equality of opportunity

This policy applies to every employee, prospective employee, Council and Committee Member or person connected with the Pharmaceutical Society of Northern Ireland, and to the services we provide to registrants and the public.

Equality and Diversity Policy in the workplace

The Pharmaceutical Society of Northern Ireland is committed to providing equal opportunities in employment and demonstrating that we value the diversity of our workforce. In order to ensure that equality underpins all aspects of our employment policies, procedures and practices, we will:

- Treat all employees and job applicants fairly in relation to all our employment policies and procedures and meet any reasonable and appropriate additional needs they may have
- Value and respect the identities and cultures of our staff

- Give our employees clear information about job selection and training and encourage all employees to reach their full potential
- Make sure that we work according to the relevant employment legislation and statutory codes of practice
- Continue to develop good practice employment policies and procedures over and above those required by legislation

- Apply this Equality and Diversity Policy through the organisation's recruitment and selection process; training programmes; grievance procedures and all other employment policies
- Apply this Equality and Diversity Policy through the organisation's registration, education and fitness to practise procedures
- Do all we can to give employees and job applicants, registrants and the public, Council members and prospective Council Members, access to complaint procedures if they feel unfairly treated

Equality and Diversity policy for registrants and the public

Service users and potential service users can expect the Pharmaceutical Society of Northern Ireland to:

- Act promptly if we receive any complaints about the way we provide services

Status of the Equality and Diversity policy

This policy forms part of the formal contract of employment for staff and part of the formal declaration of conduct of Council and Committee members upon taking up office. All members of the organisation must abide by this policy - albeit that those in senior or managerial positions or with specific responsibilities for recruitment, selection, training, appraisal and promotion should be especially mindful of the policy. Any failure to comply could result in disciplinary proceedings.

Implementing the Equality and Diversity policy

The Pharmaceutical Society of Northern will make its Equality and Diversity Policy fully effective by:

- Actively promoting it
- Regularly monitoring and reviewing all job selection procedures and criteria and amending them if they result in unfair discrimination
- Making sure that all employees and job applicants, Council and Committee Members and prospective Council Members know about this policy
- Taking appropriate action, using agreed procedures, if any employee Council or Committee Member breaches this policy

Means of Assessing Equality and Diversity Impacts

Equality of opportunity will be promoted between:-

- persons of different religious belief, political opinion, racial group, age, marital status and sexual orientation;
- between men and women generally;
- persons with a disability and persons without; and
- persons with dependants and persons without

When reviewing policy, procedures and services for their impact on equality, it is with these categories in mind that an assessment will be produced.

More information on the definition of these equality categories can be found in the “examples of equality categories” section of this policy.

Managerial Responsibility for implementing the policy

The Chief Executive has lead responsibility for implementing and monitoring this policy, but all employees, ftp and other committee members and Council Members have a responsibility to adhere to it in all areas of their work, individually and collectively. Managers must ensure that their staff are aware of the Equality and Diversity policy.

Managers who deal with breaches to this policy must do so seriously, speedily, sensitively and confidentially.

Individual Responsibility for implementing the policy

All employees; FTP and other committee members and Council members have responsibility for implementing, monitoring and promoting this policy.

The Chief Executive or his appointed deputy will review the Equality and Diversity Policy at least annually, to ensure it is appropriate and responsive to relevant legislation. Amendments to the Policy will be made, where appropriate, in the light of experience or changes in guidance and/or legislation.

Legislative Guidance

The Equality and Diversity Policy has been developed within the framework of existing equality and diversity legislation. Appendix Q

Harassment and Bullying Statement

1. Scope

- 1.1 This policy applies to all employees of the Pharmaceutical Society NI.

2. Purpose

- 2.1 The purpose of this policy is to ensure that all employees of the Pharmaceutical Society NI are protected from bullying and/or harassment in the workplace and that there are procedures in place to effectively manage any incident of bullying or harassment.

3. Introduction

- 3.1 The Pharmaceutical Society NI is committed to providing a working environment free from bullying and harassment. We aim to ensure that all staff are treated, and treat others, with dignity and respect. This policy covers bullying or harassment which occurs at work and outside of the workplace, including occurrences during work trips or at work-related events or social functions.

4. What is harassment?

- 4.1 Harassment is any unwanted conduct that has the purpose or effect of violating a person's dignity or creating an intimidating, hostile, degrading, humiliating or offensive environment for them.
- 4.2 A single incident can amount to harassment. A person may be harassed even if they are not the intended "target". Harassment also includes treating someone less favourably because they have submitted or refused to submit to such behaviour in the past.
- 4.3 It is unlawful under the Northern Ireland Act 1998 Section 75 to harass a person because of their age, disability, gender reassignment, marital or civil partner status, pregnancy or maternity, race, colour, nationality, ethnic or national origin, religion or belief, sex or sexual orientation. It also includes conduct of a sexual nature (sexual harassment). Harassment is unacceptable even if it does not fall within any of these categories.

4.4 Examples of harassment include but are not limited to:

- unwanted physical conduct including touching, pinching, pushing and grabbing;
- unwelcome sexual advances or suggestive behaviour;
- offensive e-mails, text messages or social media content or the display of offensive materials;
- unwanted jokes, banter, mocking, mimicking or belittling a person.

5. What is bullying?

5.1 Bullying is offensive, intimidating, malicious or insulting behaviour, and/or an abuse or misuse of power through means that undermine, humiliate, denigrate or injure the recipient. Bullying can include the use of personal strength or the power to coerce through fear or intimidation, not necessarily from someone in a position of authority. Bullying may be physical, verbal or non-verbal. It can include conduct that is not face-to-face including via text message, email and social media. Examples of bullying include:

- physical or psychological threats;
- overbearing and intimidating levels of supervision;
- inappropriate derogatory remarks about a person or their performance;
- shouting at staff;
- persistently picking on people in front of others or in private;
- blocking promotion and training opportunities;
- regularly and deliberately ignoring or excluding staff from work activities or work-related social events;
- setting a person up to fail by overloading them with work or setting impossible deadlines;
- regularly making the same person the butt of jokes.

Legitimate and reasonable criticism of a staff member's performance or behaviour, or reasonable management instructions, do not amount to bullying.

6. Breaches of this Policy

6.1 Bullying and harassment are not tolerated in our workplace and all staff are required to treat each other, along with our service users, suppliers, and visitors with dignity and respect. Breaches of this policy will be dealt with in accordance with our disciplinary procedures. Serious cases of bullying or harassment may amount to gross misconduct resulting in dismissal.

6.2 Staff who make complaints or who participate in good faith in any investigation must not suffer any form of retaliation or victimisation as a result. However, making a false allegation deliberately and in bad faith will be treated as misconduct and dealt with under our disciplinary procedures. Anyone found to have retaliated against or victimised someone in this way will be subject to disciplinary action under our disciplinary procedure.

7. If you believe you are being harassed or bullied

- 7.1 If you believe you are being harassed or bullied, you may wish to raise the problem informally with the person responsible. Explain the situation and how it has made you feel. It can be helpful to describe the event so the other person is clear about your concerns. Use the opportunity to ask the person to change or stop their behaviour.
- 7.2 Alternatively, you may speak to your manager who can provide confidential advice and assistance in resolving the issue formally or informally. If you do not feel that informal steps are appropriate, or they have been unsuccessful, you should raise the matter formally under our grievance procedure.
- 7.3 All complaints will be investigated in accordance with our grievance procedure. If we consider that there is sufficient evidence to suggest you have been harassed or bullied, we will consider the appropriate action to take. If the person accused is an employee, this may include invoking our disciplinary procedure.
- 7.4 Whether or not your complaint is upheld, we will consider how best to manage any ongoing working relationship between you and the person concerned.

Scheme of Delegation – PFNI Management Board

THE COUNCIL OF THE PHARMACEUTICAL SOCIETY OF NORTHERN IRELAND

and

THE PHARMACY FORUM NI MANAGEMENT BOARD

SCHEME OF DELEGATION

Dated the 26th day of January 2021

PARTIES

- (1) The Council of the Pharmaceutical Society of Northern Ireland (hereinafter referred to as “the Council”); of 73 University Street, Belfast BT7 1HZ and
- (2) The Pharmacy Forum NI Management Board (hereinafter referred to as “the PFMB”) as a delegated Committee of the Council which shall include their respective successors or permitted assignees and who shall be responsible for the performance and activities of the Pharmacy Forum NI.

RECITALS

(a) Background

The Pharmaceutical Society NI was established in 1925 as the professional body for pharmacists in Northern Ireland. As part of that role, it has from the outset had responsibility for both professional leadership and public protection, the latter through control of exit from and entry onto the Register. The current governing instrument is the Pharmacy Northern Ireland Order 1976 (“the Pharmacy Order”) which sets out the objectives and powers of the organisation. Following publication of the White Paper, “Trust Assurance and Safety in 2007” (“the White Paper”), the separation of leadership and regulatory functions has been completed through a Scheme of Delegation.

- (b) Every person registered as a Pharmaceutical Chemist with the Pharmaceutical Society NI (hereinafter referred to as “the Society”) shall be a member of the Pharmacy Forum NI (hereinafter referred to as “the Forum”).
- (c) There shall be a committee of the Council known as the Pharmacy Forum NI Management Board.
- (d) This agreement is intended to document the delegated powers and responsibilities from the Council to the PFMB.

1.0 Delegated functions to the PFMB

All professional leadership functions will be delegated to the PFMB. The relative objectives extracted from the Pharmacy Order are:

- (a) to advance Chemistry and Pharmacy;
- (b) to promote pharmaceutical education and the application of pharmaceutical knowledge;
- (c) to maintain the honour and safeguard and promote the interests of the members of the Society in their exercise of the profession of pharmacy;
- (d) to provide relief for distressed persons as defined in the Pharmacy Order;

- (e) to apply funds under the Society's control towards scholarships for the furtherance of education and research in pharmacy.

In addition, the PFMB will be expected to uphold the reputation of the Society and have due regard for public interest in its activities. The PFMB shall produce and maintain a governance handbook which as a minimum contains the features in Appendix 1 to this document.

2.0 PFMB – Responsibilities and Services

2.1 Responsibilities

The PFMB will have a primary responsibility to provide professional leadership on:

- (a) regulatory matters affecting the profession, particularly in relation to public safety;
- (b) the promotion of the profession and providing guidance on the optimisation of medicines use in Northern Ireland;
- (c) the support of the profession through educational activities and operation of the charities;
- (d) the development of the profession in the public interest;
- (e) ensuring the views of the profession are adequately reflected.

It is the role of a professional body to work in the public interest and these responsibilities are consistent with that approach.

The PFMB shall provide to Council necessary evidence in respect of the points above.

2.2 Services to the Professional Membership and Functions of the PFMB

The specific services to be provided are a matter for the PFMB in consultation with its membership.

Annual General Meeting

The PFMB shall hold an Annual General Meeting the details of which will be agreed with Council each year.

Fellowships

The PFMB may award fellowships on behalf of the Council.

3.0 Reporting

- 3.1 The PFMB shall provide detailed written reports to the Council on its activities twice in each year (at the end of each registration year, currently the 31 May, and at the mid-point of each year, currently 31 October) and further reports at any other time as the Council may reasonably request. The Council may stipulate matters to be included within the report.

Reports will detail activities since the last report, any evidence of engagement with the membership and the public, and evidence of the effectiveness of the PFMB.

- 3.2 The PFMB will co-operate fully with any annual external and internal audits that may be required by the Council.

4.0 Dispute Resolution

- 4.1 Subject to paragraph 4.2, it is intended that wherever possible disputes between the Council and the PFMB be resolved informally. In the event that disputes or disagreements cannot be resolved informally, then a mediation or arbitration service will be sought as agreed between the parties.

- 4.2 Paragraph 4.1 is without prejudice to the right of the Council, at its absolute discretion, to implement the measures set out in Section 6 of this document.

5.0 Financial arrangements

- 5.1 (a) The PFMB shall provide a financial plan to the Council each year as part of the budgetary cycle, the timing of which will be notified to the PFMB. Further financial plans may be requested at any stage.

- (b) The Council reserves the right, in its sole discretion, to limit the total amount of available monies in any given year within which submitted financial plans should operate.

- 5.2 (a) The Council will consider the content of the annual financial plan and shall, before the start of each registration year, approve and publish a budget to be used by the PFMB. The Council is not bound to accept the submitted financial plan and may amend or adjust it. Once the budget has been determined, the Council may, following consultation with the PFMB, alter the funds available. The Council is not bound by any views expressed by the PFMB further to any such consultation.

- (b) The PFMB may, during the course of a year, submit a business case and request project funding for consideration by the Council or its appointed sub-committee. The Council shall not be bound to fund any such activity but shall consider each submission.

- (c) The Council may request that the PFMB considers carrying out specific pieces of work during the course of a year. Agreement for funding shall be secured prior to the commencement of any such work.
 - (d) The PFMB financial activity is subject to the same degree of scrutiny and audit as the regulatory activity.
- 5.3 The PFMB is bound to operate within the Council approved budget and may not, without the prior authority of the Council, exceed expenditure in all or any part of the budget; such consent shall not be unreasonably withheld.
- 5.4 The PFMB may not acquire loans or any other financial products without the prior written permission of the Council.
- 5.5 The PFMB may raise funds from such sources as are deemed suitable, by reference to ethical guidelines produced by the PFMB, appropriate for use by a healthcare professional leadership body and it or any successor body may retain and/or use such funds for the discharge of its functions under this Scheme of Delegation.

6.0 Powers to suspend or terminate the PFMB

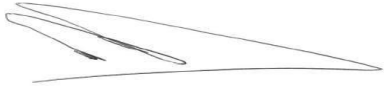

- 6.1 The Council shall have the absolute power to dissolve the PFMB at any time, after consultation with the PFMB, without any requirement for notice or compensation.
- 6.2 Where a risk to the reputation of the Society has been identified through the activities of the PFMB or its members, the Council may suspend the PFMB for a period not exceeding 3 months after which it will consult with the PFMB before making a final decision on its future.
- 6.3 Whilst not an exhaustive list, the Council shall have the right to dissolve the PFMB in the event of the following:
- (a) the serious or repeated breach of this Scheme of Delegation;
 - (b) any activity that may be in conflict with the statutory obligations of the Society;
 - (c) the committing of any act of fraud, dishonesty, gross negligence or misconduct which may reasonably be thought to damage the reputation or standing of the Society or to bring the PFMB or the Society into disrepute or to be otherwise prejudicial to its interests;
 - (d) the failing or ceasing to perform the duties under this Scheme of Delegation to the Council's reasonable satisfaction.

Scheme of Delegation – CEO

Scheme of Delegation – Council, CEO (and Committees)

Pharmaceutical Society of Northern Ireland

SCHEDULE OF MATTERS RESERVED TO COUNCIL AND SCHEME OF DELEGATION TO CEO (and COMMITTEES)

Part 1: Introduction

This document sets out the powers reserved to the Council of the Pharmaceutical Society of Northern Ireland (Council) and the powers which may be delegated to the Chief Executive (“CEO”) and it should be referred to as “the Scheme”.

It should be noted that Council remains accountable for all of its functions, even those delegated to the CEO, and it would, therefore, expect to receive information about the exercise of delegated functions to enable it to maintain a monitoring role.

Council will review the effectiveness of the Scheme every three years and make amendments, as required.

1.0 Background

The Enhancing Confidence in Healthcare Professional Regulators report¹ (para 2.2) recognised the importance of effective delegation to allow a Council to take on the strategic, board-like role envisaged in Trust, Assurance and Safety:

“The role of a Council should be to set the direction of the organisation in line with its mission and purpose. It should ensure systems are in place to enable it to monitor performance and hold the executive to account. It should also ensure probity. Some regulators already have established schemes of delegation to achieve this, and it is recommended that this should apply to all regulators.”

2.0 Purpose of Policy

2.1 The Council’s Scheme is intended to facilitate the efficient and effective functioning of the Pharmaceutical Society NI (the organisation).

¹ Niall Dickson, King’s Fund and DH – regulation, workforce (2008). Implementing the White Paper ‘Trust, Assurance and Safety’: Enhancing confidence in healthcare professional regulators – final report and DH response to recommendations

- 2.2 The Scheme is based on subsidiarity, so as to maximise effectiveness and efficiency and to allow the organisation to respond promptly to changes in circumstances. This means that decisions are taken at the lowest level which is competent to take them, enabling Council to focus on those tasks that only Council can or should perform, such as determining vision, values and strategy, setting professional standards, making regulations and holding the Senior Management Team, via the CEO, to account through systematic monitoring.
- 2.3 Other than where functions are delegated to committees or other structures, Council regards the CEO as its single point of delegation and holds this position accountable for meeting Council's expectations for organisational performance. The CEO may delegate functions further but will be held accountable by Council for the discharge of all functions delegated to him/her under the Scheme. This accountability is demonstrated through monitoring reports submitted to Council, using performance criteria agreed by Council.

3.0 Policy Statement

3.1 The Scheme sets out:

- i. Matters reserved to Council;
- ii. Matters delegated to the CEO which may also be carried out by persons nominated by the CEO; and
- iii. Matters delegated to committees or other structures.

4.0 Role of the Chief Executive (“CEO”)

The CEO is effectively the Accountable Officer² of the organisation and is responsible and accountable to Council for discharging the functions specified in the Strategy, Business Plan and for overall financial management.

The CEO has authority over all other employees so far as is necessary for efficient management and for carrying out the functions.

In discharging the functions, the CEO may use whatever means considered appropriate. He/she must act within the law, the Financial Regulations and any Code of Practice adopted by Council from time to time and have regard to the approved Strategy and any performance management regimes in place.

² The individual who may be held to account by the Council for effective use of resources and organisational performance

Data Protection Policy

Pharmaceutical Society of Northern Ireland Data protection/Records Retention Policy

General Principles & Responsibilities

1 Purpose and Scope

- 1.1 This policy relates to records (including electronic data) belonging to the Pharmaceutical Society of Northern Ireland (PSNI) and applies throughout PSNI, including, where appropriate, its subsidiaries and partner organisations as defined in paragraph 2.7.
- 1.2 This policy is formed of 8 main parts:
 - 1.2.1 This document sets out the general principles and responsibilities;
 - 1.2.2 The Records Retention Schedule, as defined in paragraph 2.4, sets out the length of time PSNI's records should be retained (Appendix 3);
 - 1.2.3 The Data Protection Policy sets out PSNI's policies for the handling of personal data to ensure compliance with the Data Protection Act 1998 (Appendix 4);
 - 1.2.4 Information Classification Policy sets out how PSNI records are classified and marked which in turn will determine how such records are managed Appendix 5);
 - 1.2.5 Information Security Policy sets out PSNI's policies and procedures to ensure all documents are stored and handled in a secure manner (Appendix 6);
 - 1.2.6 Storage of Information Policy sets out how information which PSNI has physically stored and handled (Appendix 7);
 - 1.2.7 Data Breach Handling Policy sets out the actions to be taken in the event of a data breach being reported (Appendix 8);
 - 1.2.8 Data Destruction Policy sets out the action to be taken when data is to be disposed of and destroyed (Appendix 9);
- 1.3 Records, as defined in paragraph 2.1, are a vital asset required by PSNI to support its daily functions, research and education and decision-making; they protect its rights and those of its staff, members and others and they form the corporate memory. The management of records is therefore imperative and PSNI recognises the importance of this activity.
- 1.4 The purpose of this records retention policy (and associated retention schedule and procedures) is to promote best practice in records management in order to protect the interests and support the core functions of the PSNI by ensuring the consistent and orderly maintenance and retention of adequate, unaltered and accurate records for the appropriate periods of time to satisfy relevant statutory and contractual legal, financial and operational requirements. It is also to ensure the prompt and confidential disposal of records when such requirements have ceased so as to avoid unnecessary costs relating to records maintenance or any possible liabilities.

- 1.5 This policy is subject to the laws and regulations of relevant jurisdictions and may be modified and supplemented from time to time. Other policies and legislation may be relevant in relation to records retention (see Appendix 1 for a non-exhaustive list).

2 Definitionsⁱ

- 2.1 Records are defined as “information created, received, and maintained as evidence and information by an organisation or person, in pursuance of legal obligations or in the transaction of business”

- 2.2 Recorded information includes documents and data and can be in any format or media, including paper, film and digital or electronic media (see appendix 2 for a non-exhaustive list of possible formats). This policy applies to recorded information in all possible formats.
- 2.3 Records management includes the processes for implementing records retention and disposal, storage and retrieval, in accordance with this policy and associated retention schedule and procedures.
- 2.4 A records retention schedule is a document (e.g. list or matrix), tailored for a particular entity or department, describing the different records series belonging to each function of that entity and specifying the appropriate retention period for each, as determined by legal and other relevant requirements. This retention period may include the starting point for its calculation, the length of time and what action should be taken when the period expires. The Records Retention Schedule forms part of this policy (Appendix 3).
- 2.5 A records series is a group of similar or related records which serve a common purpose or function and have the same retention period. (Examples of records series are employee personnel files, accounts payable invoices, exam papers).
- 2.6 References to “Pharmaceutical Society”, “Pharmaceutical Society NI”, “PSNI”, “the Society”, “the Organisation”, “it”, “we” or “us” mean the Pharmaceutical Society of Northern Ireland and all entities, wherever located, which are subsidiaries of the Pharmaceutical Society of Northern Ireland.
- 2.7 References to “partner organisations” include any partner organisations and any third-party service providers who are contractually obliged to maintain records on the PSNI’s behalf in accordance with this policy.

3 Principles

- 3.1 Records that are created or received and maintained by PSNI employees, Council Members - and those working for the PSNI as contractors or in partner organisations - in the course of their business activities for the PSNI, are deemed to be records belonging to PSNI. This applies whether or not the records are held on PSNI premises.
- 3.2 PSNI records are a valuable resource as sources of information for re-use and as evidence of actions, rights and obligations. However, records that are out-of-date, inadequate or unnecessary can be misleading and can impact storage / retrieval capability and costs without corresponding benefit.
- 3.3 During their retention period, records may be held in different locations and on different media depending on operational efficiency but should always be properly managed in accordance with this and other policies. General Data Protection procedures are in place (see Data Handling and ancillary Procedures manual).
- 3.4 The majority of records will eventually be destroyed, however, the small proportion of records and artefacts deemed to be of permanent legal or historical significance will be preserved in PSNI’s historical archives facilities or by the Public Records Office.
- 3.5 Retention policies for different series of records should be decided on the basis of any relevant legal requirements and a consideration of the value of the records for operational reasons both now and in the future.

- 3.6 Retention policies should be decided in consultation with the owners and users of records. If necessary, expert advice should be sought from appropriate external legal sources and, if appropriate, the Lord Chancellor's Office.
- 3.7 Retention policies should be the same for the same type of recorded information regardless of media (i.e. information retained only in digital format should be retained for the same period as it would be kept if in paper form). However, it is not necessary to retain duplicate copies of the same record, nor to retain both paper and electronic versions, for the same period. Retention arrangements for electronic records should ensure that they will remain complete, unaltered and accessible throughout the retention period.
- 3.8 Operational retention requirements should be based on an assessment of the value of the information, taking into account the need for evidence of processes, the probability of future use and the consequences if the information were not available. Information value and reference rate usually decline over time, so a decision should be made as to the point the records are likely no longer to be required.
- 3.9 Retention policies for different series of records should be codified in records retention schedules compiled on a functional or departmental basis and regularly implemented and updated by staff with records management expertise. Specific Procedures are in place for individual types of business data handling (see Data Handling and ancillary Procedures manual)
- 3.10 Public Records Act
Section 3 (6) of the PRA demands the disposal of records not selected for preservation, either by destruction or by other means approved by the Lord Chancellor.
- 3.11 Retention Period

Each organisation must decide for itself what records to keep and for how long, taking account of the legal and regulatory environment, the nature of its business and its continuing need for evidence and information about how it has carried out that business. This means decisions should be influenced by:

- the functions of PSNI as a whole;
- the regulatory environment within which PSNI exists;
- the functions of the various parts of PSNI and the various programmes and projects that complement or sit alongside;
- what information each department uses during its work;
- what records result from the work of each department; and
- how those records are shared with or used by other parts of the PSNI.

The retention period of a specific 'class' of record depends on the organisational value and, if applicable, the archival value placed on those records. Organisational value focuses on the organisation's needs and obligations and on the records as information assets. Its value for accountability, legal or reference purposes and includes protection of the legal and other rights of the organisation and those with whom it deals, and compliance with whatever regulatory framework applies.

3.12 Organisational Value

Organisational value can be determined by considering the following factors:

- the importance of the function that the records support
- what business units (individual parts of the organisation) say about their requirements for continued access to the records, including the risks of not having this access
- the importance of the records for protecting the interests and legal rights of the organisation and those with whom it deals
- any legal or regulatory requirements – even if they do not actually specify the length of time records must be kept, they may include relevant things like liability thresholds
- the requirements of anybody with a right to audit the organisation
- any accepted standards or best practice for the sector
- the relationship between the records and other related records and the data or evidence they provide.

Some records might have precedent value, others might be important for supporting evidence-based policy making.

3.13 Archival value

Archival value has a wider and more long-term focus. Archival value is about value for corporate memory purposes and for historical or cultural purposes. Often the records which need to be kept in the long term because of their organisational value are also the records with archival value but the two are not the same.

3.14 Striking A Balance

It is important to strike the right balance with respect to retaining and disposing of information. Information representing a corporate asset needs to be managed as such but information can also present a risk, for example breaches of security could potentially occur at any time in the life of the records. Furthermore, there are risks of legal discovery and third-party disputes could be particularly onerous, especially where there is no clearly defined business benefit to retaining the information in the first place.

3.15 Document Disposal and Current Best Practise

Disposal is an important part of records management ensuring that an organisation retains its records for as long as needed and when no longer needed, destroys them in an appropriate manner, helping an organisation to:

- Avoid unnecessary storage costs;
- Comply with the 5th data protection principle regarding personal information. (This principle requires organisations not to keep personal information for longer than necessary);
- Find and retrieve information more efficiently; and
- Respond to FOI request more efficiently.

Having considered the issues outlined above and the organisation and archival value, business rules should be developed and documented in such a way as to enable their daily use and specific application to different record 'classes'. These should give clear instructions on:

- What records to keep;
- Where to keep them;
- Who should keep them; and
- When to keep them.

Organisations are accountable for the way in which they use and dispose of their assets and this includes disposal of their records. They also need to be in a position to explain the absence of records that were once held particularly if subject to Freedom of Information (FOI) requests under the Freedom of Information Act 2000. For these reasons it is recommended that disposal decisions are clearly documented in disposal policies and schedules.

The main benefits of disposal schedules are:

- Records of continuing value are identified and can be managed appropriately;
- Records which cease to have any value to the organisation or as archives can be disposed of efficiently;
- Clear instructions on what happens to records when they are no longer needed to support the business;
- Definitive periods of time for which records should be kept and remain accessible;
- Consistency in retention of records across the organisation
- Evidence of compliance with legal and regulatory requirements for the retention of records;
- Evidence of what records were created but subsequently destroyed;

3.16 Document Retention/Disposal Schedule

The organisation has carried out an information audit on the records produced as part of our annual work cycle and considered each record identified in light of the issues outlined above. A retention/disposal schedule has been developed which documents the business rules for each record type 'class' and procedures are in place to meet the retention schedule requirements within the day to day working of the organisation. (see Appendix 3)

This will enable appropriate and effective retention of incoming and newly generated documentation and help to ensure that personal data is not held longer than necessary. Documentation including that holding personal data should be disposed of as a result of the routine application of retention schedules and not on an ad hoc basis, simultaneously providing for personal data to be securely destroyed, further processed and kept indefinitely as archives for research purposes, as appropriate.

3.17 Implementing Disposal Decisions

Once disposal decisions have been made, implementation can take place and it is proposed this would involve:

- Identifying records due for disposal action;
- Confirming or varying the disposal decision; and
- Putting the disposal decision into effect.

3.18 Identifying records due for disposal action

An important part of disposal management is periodic identification of all records that have reached, or are about to reach, the end of the retention period specified in the disposal schedule. It is proposed that this should be done at least once a year and the outcome of this process will be one of the following actions:

- Destruction of records
- Transfer of records to an archive's facility
- (Exceptionally) a further review.

3.19 Confirming or varying the disposal decision

Before taking any irreversible action, we will check with the other business units within PSNI that destruction can go ahead as specified in the schedule, just in case anything has changed or new circumstances mean that destruction of records should be delayed beyond the due date, for example:

- The records are known to be the subject of litigation – if so, they should not be destroyed until conclusion of the matter
- The records are known to be the subject of a request for information, or a complaint or appeal relating to that request – if so, they should not be destroyed until conclusion of the case
- The records are material to an audit or investigation – if so, destruction should be delayed until completion of action
- The records contain or relate to information recently released in response to a request for information, FOI request.

3.20 Putting the disposal decision into effect

When records are no longer required by the organisation and do not have archival value they should be destroyed. Destruction is the 'final' action for about 95% of most organisations' records however given the regulatory framework within which PSNI operates, this may not necessarily be the case for all records

Destruction of paper records can be carried out in a variety of ways, including shredding, pulping and burning. But records should be destroyed in a manner reflecting the level of security required by the confidentiality of their contents. So, for example, if records contain sensitive personal data or protectively marked papers are shredded, the shredded paper should be further disposed of securely, this can be to recycling. If an external contractor is to be used for destruction of records, a contract should specify clearly what action is required, including transmission of records off-site and what constitutes destruction. Contractors should be required to supply a certificate of destruction and, in the case of confidential records, a certificate of confidential destruction.

Current best practise recommends keeping some documentation on the actual records destroyed and recommends this should include:

- the disposal schedule reference
- the disposal class and date range of the records concerned
- evidence that destruction was properly authorised, e.g. an email from the responsible person
- evidence that destruction took place in accordance with the disposal schedule, e.g. a certificate specifying the method, place and date of destruction and details of the staff or contractor who carried out destruction.

3.21 Transferring Records to an Archives Service

Disposal of records does not always mean destruction and, in some cases, it may be deemed appropriate to transfer a 'class' of records to an appropriate archive service. In the case of public records, i.e. records subject to the Public Records Act (Northern Ireland) 1923, PRA, records with archival value must be transferred to the Public Record Office of Northern Ireland, and guidance is available regarding how this should be done. Similarly, as in the case of document destruction, the transfer of documents should also be recorded.

3.22 Historic Documentation

The organisation has also retained a large quantity of documentation generated within the course of business over the last number of years. The Document Retention and Disposal Schedule and the business rules for each record type held therein have been further applied to this historic documentation and action proposed. (see Appendix 3)

3.23 Requirements for storage of physical records

Principal 7 of the DPA requires that personal data should be stored securely so that confidentiality is maintained at all times. Access should be provided only to those who have a need that can be satisfied within the law. The level of security should be appropriate and proportionate to the nature of the data and the harm that could arise from a breach in security.

Risk management techniques have been used to assess the nature, level and impact of risks and the appropriate measures to be taken to protect the personal data held by the organisation and internal policies, procedures, security measures and training have been employed to mitigate these risks.

In addition to the internal storage the Pharmaceutical Society NI, uses additional external/offsite storage. Procedures are in place to ensure that arrangements covering the authorisation, transfer, storage, retrieval and return of manual records continue to maintain appropriate authenticity, reliability, accessibility and security of records.

3.24 Ongoing review

Given that policies should reflect business needs which evolve and change over time it is proposed that this policy be monitored and reviewed on an annual basis to ensure the continued underpinning of effective record management. Consideration within this review should be given to whether:

- The types of records included in the schedule are still kept
- The disposal decisions and triggers are still appropriate
- Records that are no longer being kept are removed from the schedule once the last records have been disposed of
- Any new set of records is added to the schedule.

3.25 Further External Input and Advice

Prior to the implementation of the attached Document Retention and Disposal Schedule and taking any proposed action with respect to historic records, plans are in place to seek further input and guidance from PSNI's legal and audit teams, particularly with respect to:

- Appropriate consideration of the DPA;
- Appropriate consideration of the FOI;
- Appropriate consideration of the PRA; and
- Audit requirements;

4 Responsibilities

- 4.1 Ultimate responsibility for compliance with this policy shall lie with the Chief Executive.
- 4.2 The PSNI's Data Protection Officer/SMT are accountable for drawing up guidance for good records management practice, procedures and promoting compliance with this policy as well as maintaining the master Records Retention Schedule.
- 4.3 Within each department the relevant member of the senior manager is responsible for day to day management of the consistent implementation of the data protection/ records retention policy. This person should make available to other employees the relevant policy, procedures, retention schedules and advice.
- 4.4 Senior managers must ensure that their staff are adequately trained and are made aware of the key principles of this and related policies.
- 4.5 All employees are responsible for ensuring that accurate and adequate records relating to their areas of responsibility are maintained . They are also responsible for records inherited from predecessors in their role and for the disposal or storage of their records when they cease to be in regular use. This should be done in compliance with the relevant records retention schedule.
- 4.6 The SMT is responsible for the selection of records for permanent preservation and the Business Manager for the maintenance of the archives of the PSNI and its predecessor entities.
- 4.7 Compliance with this Policy and related procedures is mandatory. It applies to all sectors and departments in PSNI. Compliance will be monitored by the DPO.
- 4.8 Where permitted by law and in line with contracts of employment and the staff handbook, any employee found to have violated this policy may be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment.

5 Personal and Criminal Liability

- 5.1 Breach of this Policy is an extremely serious matter. A breach of the Data Protection Act could result in a criminal conviction for the Pharmaceutical Society NI.

- 5.2 A breach of the Data Protection Act can also result in a criminal prosecution being brought against Pharmaceutical Society NI Officers and Council Members where a breach is found to have occurred with their consent, connivance or neglect.
- 5.3 Employees may face criminal charges if they disclose or obtain personal data without the consent of both the data subject and controller.
- 5.4 Employees may also face disciplinary action if they disclose or obtain personal data contrary to their contract of employment and the staff handbook.

Appendix V

"WHISTLEBLOWING" POLICY

Introduction

The Pharmaceutical Society NI is committed to the highest standards of openness, probity and accountability.

An important aspect of accountability and transparency is a mechanism to enable staff and other office holders (workers) of the organisation to voice concerns in a responsible and effective manner. It is a fundamental term of every contract of service or employment that a worker will faithfully serve his or her organisation and not disclose confidential information about the organisation's affairs. Nevertheless, where an individual discovers information which they believe shows serious malpractice or wrongdoing within the organisation then this information should be disclosed internally without fear of reprisal, and there should be arrangements to enable this to be done independently of line management (although in relatively minor instances the line manager would be the appropriate person to be told).

The Public Interest Disclosure Act 1998 gives legal protection to workers against being dismissed or penalised by their organisation as a result of publicly disclosing certain serious concerns. The organisation has endorsed the provisions set out below so as to ensure that no workers should feel at a disadvantage in raising legitimate concerns.

It should be emphasised that this policy is intended to assist individuals who believe they have discovered malpractice or impropriety. It is not designed to question financial or business decisions taken by the organisation nor should it be used to reconsider any matters which have already been addressed under harassment, complaint, disciplinary or other procedures. Once the "whistleblowing" procedures are in place, it is reasonable to expect staff and other workers to use them rather than air their complaints outside the organisation.

Scope of Policy

This policy is designed to enable workers for the organisation to raise concerns internally and at a high level and to disclose information which the individual believes shows malpractice or impropriety. This policy is intended to cover concerns which are in the public interest and may at least initially be investigated separately but might then lead to the invocation of other procedures e.g. disciplinary. These concerns could include

- Financial malpractice or impropriety or fraud
- Failure to comply with a legal obligation or Statutes
- Dangers to Health & Safety or the environment
- Criminal activity
- Improper conduct or unethical behaviour
- A miscarriage of justice
- Attempts to conceal any of these

Safeguards

i. Protection

This policy is designed to offer protection to those workers who disclose such concerns provided the disclosure is made:

- in good faith
- in the reasonable belief of the individual making the disclosure that it tends to show malpractice or impropriety and if they make the disclosure to an appropriate person (see below). It is important to note that no protection from internal disciplinary procedures is offered to those who choose not to use the procedure.

In extreme cases, malicious or wild allegations could give rise to legal action on the part of the persons complained about.

ii. Confidentiality

The organisation will treat all such disclosures in a confidential and sensitive manner. The identity of the individual making the allegation may be kept confidential so long as it does not hinder or frustrate any investigation. However, the investigation process may reveal the source of the information and the individual making the disclosure may need to provide a statement as part of the evidence required.

iii. Anonymous Allegations

This policy encourages individuals to put their name to any disclosures they make. Concerns expressed anonymously are much less credible, but they may be considered at the discretion of the organisation.

In exercising this discretion, the factors to be taken into account will include:

- The seriousness of the issues raised
- The credibility of the concern
- The likelihood of confirming the allegation from attributable sources

iv. Untrue Allegations

If an individual makes an allegation in good faith, which is not confirmed by subsequent investigation, no action will be taken against that individual. In making a disclosure the individual should exercise due care to ensure the accuracy of the information. If, however, an individual makes malicious or vexatious allegations, and particularly if he or she persists with making them, disciplinary action may be taken against that individual.

Procedures for Making a Disclosure Internally

Complainants should normally raise their concerns promptly in writing with their line manager or more senior manager if they are employees, with the President or Vice President if Council members and with a member of the senior management team if they are members of the public, suppliers or contractors.

On receipt of a complaint of malpractice, the member of staff or officer who receives and takes note of the complaint, must pass this information as soon as is reasonably possible, to the appropriate designated investigating officer as follows:

- Complaints of malpractice will be investigated by the appropriate SMT member unless the complaint is against the SMT member or is in any way related to the actions of them. In such cases, the complaint should be passed to the Chief Executive for referral.
- In the case of a complaint, which is any way connected with but not against the SMT member, the Chief Executive will nominate a Senior Manager to act as the alternative investigating officer.
- Complaints against the Chief Executive or any Council member or other office holder should be passed to the President who will nominate an appropriate investigating officer.
- The complainant has the right to bypass the line management structure and take their complaint direct to the President. The President has the right to refer the complaint back to management if he/she feels that the management without any conflict of interest can more appropriately investigate the complaint.
- Where the complaint is about the President it should be referred to the Chief Executive, or any other Officer.

Should none of the above routes be capable of use (for example if the whistleblower feels they will be victimised if they raise the matter internally, if they believe disclosure could result in the destruction of evidence or the matter is so serious it cannot be discussed internally), then the complainant may approach one of the following individuals who have been designated and trained as independent points of contact under this procedure. They can advise the complainant on the implications of the legislation and the possible internal and external avenues of complaint open to them and will decide upon the most appropriate course of action;

1 ___Chair of Audit and Risk Committee

2___Director, ASM Ltd, Internal auditors

If there is evidence of criminal activity, then the investigating officer should inform the police. The organisation will ensure that any internal investigation does not hinder a formal police investigation.

External disclosure

Should the whistle blower choose to raise the matter externally they should do so to the relevant regulatory or statutory body.

Timescales

Due to the varied nature of these sorts of complaints, which may involve internal investigators and / or the police, it is not possible to lay down precise timescales for such investigations. The investigating officer should ensure that the investigations are undertaken as quickly as possible without affecting the quality and depth of those investigations.

The investigating officer, should as soon as practically possible, send a written acknowledgement of the concern to the complainant and thereafter report back to them in writing the outcome of the investigation and on the action that is proposed. If the investigation is a prolonged one, the investigating officer should keep the complainant informed, in writing, as to the progress of the investigation and as to when it is likely to be concluded.

All responses to the complainant should be in writing and sent to their home address.

Investigating Procedure

The investigating officer should follow these steps:

- Full details and clarifications of the complaint should be obtained.
- The investigating officer should inform the member of staff against whom the complaint is made as soon as is practically possible. The member of staff will be informed of their right to be accompanied by a colleague or other representative at any future interview or hearing held under the provision of these procedures.
- The investigating officer should consider the involvement of the organisational auditors and the Police at this stage and should consult with the President / Chief Executive
- The allegations should be fully investigated by the investigating officer with the assistance where appropriate, of other individuals / bodies.
- A judgement concerning the complaint and validity of the complaint will be made by the investigating officer. This judgement will be detailed in a written report containing the findings of the investigations and reasons for the judgement. The report will be passed to the Chief Executive or President as appropriate.
- The Chief Executive / President will decide what action to take. If the complaint is shown to be justified, then they will invoke the disciplinary or other appropriate procedure.
- The complainant should be kept informed of the progress of the investigations and, if appropriate, of the final outcome.
- If appropriate, a copy of the outcomes will be passed to the external / internal auditors to enable a review of the procedures.
- The complainant will not be penalised for raising a qualifying disclosure even if it is not upheld, unless the complaint was both untrue and made with malice

If the complainant is not satisfied that their concern is being properly dealt with by the investigating officer, they have the right to raise it in confidence with the Chief Executive / President, or one of the designated persons described above.

If the investigation finds the allegations unsubstantiated and all internal procedures have been exhausted, but the complainant is not satisfied with the outcome of the investigation, the organisation recognises the lawful rights of office holders, employees and ex-employees to make disclosures to prescribed persons (such as the Health and Safety Executive, the Audit Commission, or the utility regulators in accordance with the provisions of the Act), or, where justified, elsewhere.

Review

This policy will be reviewed at least every three years

Appendix W

Anti-Fraud Policy

1. Scope

This policy applies to all Council Members, other office holders and employees of the Pharmaceutical Society NI (“the organisation”).

2. Purpose

The purpose of this document is to set out the organisation’s policy and procedures against fraud and other forms of dishonesty together with the steps that must be taken where any of these practices is suspected or discovered.

3. Introduction

This organisation has a zero-tolerance approach to fraud and always requires all those associated with the organisation to act with integrity and honesty.

Anybody associated with the organisation who commits fraud, theft or any other dishonesty, or who becomes aware of it and does not report it, will be subject to appropriate disciplinary action.

4. Statement of intent

The organisation will continually strive to ensure that all its financial and administrative processes are carried out and reported honestly, accurately, transparently and accountably and that all decisions are taken objectively and free of personal interest. We will not condone any behaviour that falls short of these principles.

All those involved with the organisation have a responsibility for putting these principles into practice and for reporting any breaches they discover.

5. Definitions

No precise legal definition of fraud exists. Many offences referred to as fraud are covered by the Theft Acts of 1968 and 1978. The term is used to describe acts such as deception, bribery, forgery, extortion, corruption, theft, conspiracy, embezzlement, misappropriation, false representation, concealment of material facts and collusion. For practical purposes, and for this policy, fraud may be defined as the use of deception with the intention of obtaining an advantage, avoiding an obligation or causing loss to another party.

Occupational fraud and abuses generally fall into four main categories:

- theft, the misappropriation or misuse of assets for personal benefit;
- bribery and corruption;
- false accounting and/or making fraudulent statements with a view to personal gain or gain for another, for example, falsely claiming overtime, travel and subsistence, sick leave or special leave (with or without pay); and
- externally perpetrated fraud against an organisation.

6. Culture

The organisation's culture is intended to foster honesty and integrity and is underpinned by seven principles of behaviour. These are selflessness, integrity, objectivity, accountability, openness, honesty and leadership. Office holders and staff are expected to lead by example in adhering to policies, procedures and practices. Equally, registrants, members of the public, service users and external organisations (such as suppliers and contractors) are expected to act with integrity and without intent to commit fraud against the organisation in any dealings they may have with it.

As part of the culture, the organisation has provided clear routes by which concerns can be raised by office holders, staff and by those outside of the organisation. This policy should be read in conjunction with the organisation's Whistleblowing Policy.

Senior management are expected to deal promptly, firmly and fairly with suspicions and allegations of fraud or corrupt practice.

7. Responsibilities

In relation to the prevention of fraud, theft, misuse of equipment and abuse of position, specific responsibilities are as follows:

a) Council

Council is responsible for overseeing the establishment and maintenance of a sound system of internal controls that supports the achievement of the organisation's policies, aims and objectives.

The system of internal controls is designed to respond to and manage the range of risks that the organisation faces.

The system of internal controls is based on an ongoing process designed to identify the principal risks, to evaluate the nature and extent of those risks and to manage them effectively. Managing fraud risk is seen in the context of the management of this wider range of risks.

b) The Chief Executive Officer (CEO):

Overall responsibility for managing the risk of fraud has been delegated to the CEO. His/her responsibilities include:

- undertaking a regular review of the fraud risks associated with each of the key organisational objectives;
- establishing an effective anti-fraud response plan in proportion to the level of fraud risk identified;
- designing an effective control environment to prevent fraud;
- establishing appropriate mechanisms for:
 - reporting fraud risk issues; and
 - reporting significant incidents of fraud or attempted fraud to the Council;
- liaising with the appointed Auditors;
- ensuring that all staff are aware of the Anti-Fraud Policy and know what their responsibilities are in relation to combating fraud;
- ensuring that appropriate anti-fraud training is made available; and
- ensuring that appropriate action is taken to minimise the risk of previous frauds occurring in future.

c) Senior Management Team

The Senior Management Team is responsible for:

- ensuring that an adequate system of internal control exists within their areas of responsibility and that controls operate effectively;
- preventing and detecting fraud as far as possible;
- assessing the types of risks involved in the operations for which they are responsible;
- regularly reviewing the control systems for which they are responsible;
- ensuring that controls are being complied with and that control systems continue to operate effectively; and
- implementing new controls to reduce the risk of similar fraud occurring where fraud has taken place.

d) Staff

Every member of staff including the Chief Executive Officer and Senior Management Team is responsible for:

- acting with propriety in the use of organisational resources and the handling and use of funds whether they are involved with cash, receipts, payments or dealing with suppliers;
- conducting themselves in accordance with the seven principles set out above - selflessness, integrity, objectivity, accountability, openness, honesty and leadership;
- being alert to the possibility that unusual events or transactions could be indicators of fraud;
- alerting their manager, the President or Chief Executive when they believe the opportunity for fraud exists e.g. because of poor procedures or lack of effective oversight;
- reporting details immediately if they suspect that a fraud has been committed or see any suspicious acts or events in accordance with the Whistleblowing Policy; and
- cooperating fully with whoever is conducting internal checks or reviews or fraud investigations.

8. Detection and Investigation

Whilst having regard to the requirements of Data Protection legislation, the organisation actively participates in an exchange of information with external agencies, including the Police Service of Northern Ireland, on issues which include fraud and corruption. It is often the awareness of office holders or staff and the general public to the possibility of fraud and corruption that leads to detection of financial or other irregularity.

The President or the Chief Executive must be notified immediately of all financial or accounting irregularities or suspected irregularities or of any circumstances which may suggest the possibility of irregularities including those affecting cash, property, matters relating to the Register, remuneration or allowances.

Reporting of suspected irregularities is essential as it facilitates a proper investigation by experienced staff and ensures the consistent treatment of information regarding fraud and corruption.

When so notified, the President or Chief Executive will instigate an investigation by appointing a designated officer, auditor or other adviser.

The designated officer, auditor or other advisor will:

- deal promptly with the matter;
- record evidence received;
- ensure the security and confidentiality of evidence;
- work closely with senior managers and agencies, such as the Police and Courts, to ensure that all issues are properly investigated and reported;
- ensure maximum recoveries are made on behalf of the organisation and assist the senior managers to implement the organisation's disciplinary procedures where considered appropriate (referral to the Police will not prohibit or restrict action under the Disciplinary Procedure).

In cases of suspected payroll irregularities where a fraud investigation may be possible, discussion will occur between the President and the CEO if it is thought a disciplinary investigation is more appropriate.

Malicious accusations may be the subject of disciplinary action.

9. Training

An important contribution to the continuing success of an anti-fraud strategy, and its general credibility, lies in the effective training of office holders and staff throughout the organisation.

This will be achieved through the development of both induction and refresher training for all personnel involved in internal control systems to ensure that their responsibilities and duties in this respect are regularly highlighted and reinforced.

Any queries in relation to this policy should be addressed with the Head of Business Operations.

Disclosure Policy

Policy on the disclosure and publication of fitness to practise information

June 2014

Purpose of this policy

The purpose of this policy is to set out how the Pharmaceutical Society NI will publish and disclose information relating to the fitness to practise of pharmacist registrants.

Application of this policy

The policy incorporates relevant legislative requirements resulting from the Pharmacy (1976 Order) (Amendment) Order (Northern Ireland) 2012 and its associated regulations.

Background

On 1 October 2012 the enactment of the Pharmacy (1976 Order) (Amendment) Order (Northern Ireland) 2012 and its associated regulations, has enabled the Statutory and Scrutiny Committees to utilise the full range of fitness to practise sanctions.

The greater range of sanctions enables the committees to issue formal warnings, suspensions, place conditions on the practise of pharmacists and impose interim orders where appropriate to take the pharmacist off the register whilst a case is investigated.

The legislation also makes it possible for the fitness to practise sanctions to be displayed on the Pharmaceutical Society of Northern Ireland's online public register. (Previously, the Pharmaceutical Society NI possessed one single sanction: removal from the register.)

Policy on the publication and disclosure of fitness to practise information

1. Introduction

1.1 The Pharmaceutical Society NI is the regulatory body for pharmacists in Northern Ireland. Our primary purpose is to ensure practising pharmacists in Northern Ireland are registered and fit to practise, keep their skills and knowledge up to date and deliver high quality safe care to patients. It is the organisation's responsibility to protect and maintain public safety in pharmacy by:

- Setting and promoting standards for pharmacists' admission to the register and for remaining on the register;

- Maintaining a publicly accessible register of pharmacists, and pharmacy premises;
- Handling concerns about the Fitness to Practise of registrants, acting as a complaints portal and taking action to protect the public; and
- Ensuring high standards of education and training for pharmacists in Northern Ireland.

1.2 Key principles of this policy

1.2.1 The key principles adopted by the Pharmaceutical Society NI are consistent with the principles of good regulation identified by 'Better Regulation Executive' in 2000; the Hampton Review of 2005, commissioned by the Treasury and the Professional Standards Authority (formerly Council of Healthcare Regulatory Excellence (CHRE¹)) 'Right Touch Regulation'.

1.2.2 When making decisions on what to publish and disclose, the Pharmaceutical Society NI adheres to:

- Proportionality – We are committed to ensuring that information that is disclosed is appropriate and proportionate. It is important to achieve the correct balance between the rights of the individual and the need to consider what is in the public interest.
- Transparency - The Pharmaceutical Society NI will be transparent about its processes, explain and publicise the decisions it makes.
- Accountability - We will seek the views of stakeholders and consult before policy decisions are taken. We will justify and clearly explain our decisions which we expect to be open to public scrutiny.
- Consistency - This policy has been developed to ensure consistency across the organisation and that is implemented fairly. We will also ensure consistency, where appropriate with other UK healthcare regulators.
- Targeted - We will ensure that our activity is focused on areas of greatest risk and/or what is deemed to be in the interests of public safety.

¹ On 1 December 2012 the Council for Healthcare Regulatory Excellence became the Professional Standards Authority for Health and Social Care.

1.3 Aims of this policy

- To outline the Pharmaceutical Society NI's approach to the publication and disclosure of fitness to practise information;
- To outline the Pharmaceutical Society NI's policy in relation to the disclosure of fitness to practise information to interested parties;
- To outline how fitness to practise information is displayed on the online public register;
- To outline the timeframes for the display of fitness to practise information.

1.4 Legislative context/framework

2. Public interest disclosure

2.1 The Pharmaceutical Society NI has the power to disclose to any person, any information relating to a person's fitness to practise which it considers to be in the public interest to disclose.²

3. Information relating to a registrant's health

3.1 The Pharmaceutical Society NI does not publish information relating solely to the physical or mental health of a pharmacist. This information is treated as confidential regardless of which Committee (Scrutiny or Statutory) hears the case.

3.2 Where information regarding a pharmacist's health is disclosed during any part of a hearing that is held in public, this information will be redacted from the published determinations.

4. Complainant confidentiality

4.1 Upon receipt of a complaint, we will notify the registrant concerned that we have received information – however, this is subject to consent obtained from the complainant, as appropriate.

5. Initial Investigation stage

5.1 The Pharmaceutical Society NI does not disclose or publish information about ongoing investigations on its website, to the media or any other enquirers; except where it is necessary for the protection of the public or otherwise in the public interest.

5.2 The decision to disclose information to employers will be decided on a case by case basis appropriate to circumstances to the case and/or where the issues being investigated give rise to immediate concerns about patient or public safety.

5.3 The registrant and complainant will be notified of the outcome of an investigation. This information will not be published on the website.

In cases where only advice has been given to the person concerned or to other persons, where no impairment has been admitted or found, no publication will be made.

6.4.2 In health-related cases where the registrant has agreed to undertakings, the determination will be published but details of the undertaking will not be disclosed.

At the end of a public Statutory Committee hearing, decisions and reasons in cases where a registrant's fitness to practise is impaired and a sanction is imposed will be publicised on the website, within ten working days of the end of the hearing. All determinations will be published in the on the organisation's website. The length of time this information will be available will be aligned to our policy on the display of sanctions on the online register.

The Pharmaceutical Society NI will not publish the outcome of a hearing where no impairment or sanction has been applied; unless the registrant requests so.

The Pharmaceutical Society NI will publish the determination of a Statutory Committee hearing where an interim order has been applied. Note only the determination will be published, no details of any interim order cases will be disclosed.

6.10.2 Publication of Fitness to practise determinations (before 1 October 2012)

Past hearing outcomes (before 1 October 2012) will remain accessible in an archive section of the website.

7. Witnesses

7.1 The names of witnesses, including professional witnesses are not normally redacted.

7.2 The names of patients, vulnerable witnesses⁷ and minors (i.e. under the age of 18) are anonymised in all hearing bundles setting out the allegation and names will be redacted when placed on the website. In exceptional circumstances, vulnerable witnesses may be allowed to give evidence to the Panel in private.

8. Multi factorial cases

8.1 Sometimes concerns about a pharmacist relate to a variety of factors. Some cases will therefore involve a number of different factors such as convictions, health, conduct or performance. These are known as multi factorial cases.

8.2 In multi factorial cases, committees are expected to adapt the procedures where necessary and hold as much of the hearing as possible in public while entering into private session only for those parts of a hearing which relate to a registrant's health.⁹

9. Online register

9.1 The role of the Pharmaceutical Society NI is to protect, promote and maintain the health, safety and wellbeing of patients and the public. One of the ways this is achieved is by maintaining an online register of all pharmacists who have current registration with the Pharmaceutical Society NI. The register is available on our website at www.pсни.org.uk and anyone can search this to check that a pharmacist is registered.

9.2 Display and recording of sanctions on the register

9.3 All current sanctions in relation to a pharmacist will be displayed on the Pharmaceutical Society NI online register.¹⁰

9.4 The only exception to this is matters relating solely to the registrant's health which is treated as confidential.

10. Duration of fitness to practise determination on the online register

10.1 In keeping with the organisation's commitment to openness and transparency and to ensure that all stakeholders can access relevant and up to date fitness to practise information regarding a registrant, all sanctions will be displayed on the online register against a registrant's entry for the duration as listed in the table 1, below.

10.2 Table 1

| | Warning | Suspension | Conditions | Undertaking | Interim Order |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------|---------|-----------------------------------------|----------------------------------------|------------------------------------------|-----------------------|

11. Struck off the register following statutory committee hearing

11.1 Public registers, in principle are intended to be a definitive record of all those who are registered and fit to practise. As former registrants who have been removed from the register are not entitled to practise, this information will not be displayed on the online register.

11.2 It will be made clear on the Pharmaceutical Society NI website that pharmacists who have been struck off the register no longer appear on the online register. This will be available on the website for 5 years.

12. Employer checks

Anyone employing a pharmacist is expected to check whether they are registered with the Pharmaceutical Society of Northern Ireland and therefore entitled to work in the UK.
